Q8. An estimated 3 million EU migrants currently live in the UK and 1.2 million British citizens live in other EU countries, as a result of free movement rules. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this statement? The UK and EU should guarantee the rights and status of EU citizens in the UK and UK citizens in the EU as the first item for discussion in the Brexit negotiations and not make people wait until the negotiations conclude in 2019.

Q23. Since 2012, a UK citizen who wants to bring in a non-EU husband, wife or civil partner has to earn more than £18,600 per year to get a family migration visa. The potential earnings of non-EU family migrants are not allowed. This rule stops 41% of British citizens bringing in a non-EU spouse or partner.

How do you think the Government should treat non-EU family migrants?

Q23. Since 2012, a UK citizen who wants to bring in a non-EU husband, wife or civil partner has to earn more than £18,600 per year to get a family migration visa. The potential earnings of non-EU family migrants are not allowed. This rule stops 41% of British citizens bringing in a non-EU spouse or partner.

How do you think the Government should treat non-EU family migrants?
