Data derived from:-

Q.A Some people have said they would not vote in a new General Election, while others have said they would vote. How certain is it that you would actually vote in a general election if it were to be held tomorrow? On a ten point scale where 10 means you would be absolutely certain to vote and 1 means you would be certain not to vote how likely is it that you would cast your vote?

Q.B The Conservatives, Labour, the Liberal Democrats, UKIP, and other parties would fight a new General Election in your area. If there were a General Election tomorrow which party do you think you would vote for?

Data excludes those who definitely will not vote (4%), don't know who they would vote for (15%) or refuse to answer (1%)

Data derived from:-

Q.A Some people have said they would not vote in a new General Election, while others have said they would vote. How certain is it that you would actually vote in a general election if it were to be held tomorrow? On a ten point scale where 10 means you would be absolutely certain to vote and 1 means you would be certain not to vote how likely is it that you would cast your vote?

Q.B The Conservatives, Labour, the Liberal Democrats, UKIP, and other parties would fight a new General Election in your area. If there were a General Election tomorrow which party do you think you would vote for?

Data excludes those who definitely will not vote (4%), don't know who they would vote for (15%) or refuse to answer (1%)

Q5. Last Friday Theresa May secured a deal for Britain with the EU on citizens' rights, Northern Ireland border and the so-called 'divorce' bill that enables the next stage of talks to move onto a trade and transition deal. Based on what you know, do you think Theresa May secured "sufficient progress" to get on to the next stage of Brexit talks on trade?

Q13. The UK is expected to leave the EU at 11pm on 29th March 2019 by which time the British Government hopes to have a new post Brexit trade and transition deal agreed with Brussels. However, it been suggested by some that this leaves insufficient time for Britain and the EU to negotiate a deal.

If this was to be the case, do you think the March 2019 exit date should be extended to allow time for a trade and transition deal to be finalised?

Q13. The UK is expected to leave the EU at 11pm on 29th March 2019 by which time the British Government hopes to have a new post Brexit trade and transition deal agreed with Brussels. However, it been suggested by some that this leaves insufficient time for Britain and the EU to negotiate a deal. If this was to be the case, do you think the March 2019 exit date should be extended to allow time for a trade and transition deal to be finalised?
